Indiana, PA - New Art Gallery Opening on Sixth Street

The Fox Clark Gallery has announced their Grand Opening and Ribbon Cutting celebration, scheduled for Saturday, September 30th from 5:00 pm to 8:00 pm. The celebration will include live music, light refreshments, and the ribbon cutting will be coordinated with the Indiana County Chamber of Commerce.

The Fox Clark Gallery is a cooperative artist gallery, featuring the work of 10 local artists: Sharon Boykiw, Jolene Joyner, Jocelyn Randolph, Beth Wheeler, John Ritter, James Rickard, Jonelle Summerfield, Davey Beyer, Mandi Moerland, and Hannah Harley. Each artist has unique mediums and subject matter, bringing together idyllic western Pennsylvanian landscapes and vibrant abstractions in one, large gallery space.

Managed by Thomas Bouleau, the gallery is a breath of renewal in the historic building located at 33 N. Sixth Street in downtown Indiana. Formerly the Costume Shop, a hardware store, and a bike shop, the space has been a retail destination for decades. Now, with the support and mentorship of the existing art gallery in downtown Indiana (the Artists Hand Gallery), the Fox Clark Gallery will be open to the public!

Following the Grand Opening on September 30th, the gallery's hours will be Thursday - Saturday, 12:00 - 6:00 pm. Private appointments outside of those times can be made by emailing thefoxclarkgallery@gmail.com. Artwork will be available for purchase online and in person.
